

Shivangi ASTHANA

Shivangi is a PhD student at School of Communication at Hong Kong Baptist University. Prior to joining here, she was working as a business journalist with Thomson Reuters & Microsoft News. She has rich experience of working on live newswire and editorial pieces in top media firms of India.

Research Interest:

She is currently exploring responses from media and users during crisis situations. She aims to understand global media from the lens of resilience, risk and ideological shift that people make during a crisis situation. She is also interested to study how the rise and depth of religious journalism across the globe is impacted since 2020.
